CLASE AZUL

Clase Azul Tequila is a premium tequila made from 100% Blue Agave. The agave is grown in the Highlands of Jalisco, Mexico, and is then slow-cooked in traditional brick ovens. The tequila is then aged in small oak barrels for at least 12 months, which gives it a smooth and complex flavor. Each bottle is beautifully handcrafted by over 100 artesians. We encourage you to indulge in our boastful selection of this premium Agave Tequila and have included tasting notes to aid you in your Tequila journey.

TEQUILA

THE BLUE AGAVE

Tequila is made from the agave, pronounced 'Uh-Gah-Vee'. A native plant to Mexico, its name originates from a Greek word meaning 'noble' or 'admirable'. The origins of tequila date back to around 250-330 A.D. when the Aztec Indians first fermented the juice of agave to produce their ceremonial wine, 'pulque'. Tequila can only be produced in five Mexican states: Jalisco, Nayarit, Michoacán, Guanajuato and Tamaulipas.

A Jimador is a skilled harvester of the ripe agave plants. They use a savagely sharp 'coas' for rapidly stripping the leaves to expose the centre of the plant 'the piña'. There are three different sets of processes used to make tequila:

Traditional - using a masonry oven called a 'horno' to cook the piñas, then shredding with a Tahona stone wheel, fermenting in an open tank with fibres and distillation in copper pot stills

Modern - cooking the piñas in an autoclave then shredding with a roll mill, fermentation in stainless steel vats and distillation in stainless steel stills

Industrial - using a diffuser to extract scratch from the raw agave and distillation in column stills.

With some 150 tequila distilleries producing many different brands there is an incredibly diverse range of tequilas, we encourage you to try the goodness of the spiky Mexican plant from our premium selection of Tequilas and Agave Cocktails.
